Barry Hilton
THE LANDSCAPE OF LIFE

Barry Hilton's unique vision of sweeping skies, remote cottages and a landscape suffused with colour and light has long established him as one of the nation's most beloved and successful artists. This spring Barry is celebrating his 80th birthday, and to mark this wonderful occasion he has created two classic collector's editions.

“I love the vibrant and unexpected colours that appear in the landscape. The way they change with the shifting light and passing clouds is extraordinary. My imagination runs wild when I’m painting, I paint what I myself see rather than recreating the landscape as an exact copy.”
